

Human Trafficking and Child Exploitation Policy

SinterCast is committed to a working in a world that is free from human trafficking, forced labour and child exploitation. SinterCast does not tolerate any form of violation of child rights or compulsory labour, neither within SinterCast, nor in the SinterCast supply chain. All SinterCast employees are obliged to report concerns directly to management in order for appropriate actions to be taken.

The nature and scope of the SinterCast business activities, with sourcing from well-known industrial specialists in northern Europe and the United States, ensures that there is currently no human trafficking or child exploitation in the SinterCast supply chain. Business partners and current suppliers will continue to be evaluated – and new suppliers will be carefully selected – to ensure that international laws and regulations will always be honoured.
